Parent Guide: Portrait, Interview, Photo Wrap-Up

1. Family Portrait
   On construction paper, with your choice of art supply, have your kiddos draw a portrait of your family. Challenge them to show what makes your family different and special. Cut into jigsaw pieces and put back together as a family!

   Supplies Needed:
   - construction paper, other paper (huge portrait on craft paper would be fun)
   - pen, pencil, markers, crayons, colored pencils, and/or paint

2. Family Interviews
   Your family shares one thing in common - you’re all part of the same family; however, there’s no doubt your family is filled with lots of unique individuals! Interviewing family members from different generations and different sides of your family can help you learn more about how you have come to be today! It’s also a fun way to uncover fun things about people you love!

   Supplies Needed:
   - interview questions (link on our website)
   - notebook
   - pen/pencil
   - phone or video call capability

3. Photo Activity (Day 6 of 6)
   Use a digital camera (or cell phone with a camera). Each morning choose a theme for the day. Take 10 photos related to that theme as you go about your day. Save each day’s photos to a unique folder on your computer titled with the theme for the day. Arrange the photos into a collage and study them to see if you can find themes, connections, patterns, or shared characteristics.

   PROJECT FINISH-UP: After today’s photos are organized and analyzed, take a look across the entire week’s worth of photos to see if you can spot bigger trends!
